ABOUT THE EDUCATOR

Thomas Schiavone is a corrective hair specialist from New York City. As a certified master colorist and texture cutting specialist, he has worked alongside top artists from around the world. He developed a passion for Brazilian Blowout after quickly realizing that it was not only the most profitable revenue stream within his salon, but the most impactful because it “gives women the hair of a lifetime”. Thomas joined the Brazilian Professionals team in 2010 as a certified stylist and quickly became the Northeast Regional Education Manager. Now, as one of Brazilian Professionals' International Trainers, Thomas travels around the world to teach stylists how to make more money and give women the best hair of their life by incorporating Brazilian Blowout and b3 Brazilian Bond Builder into every salon service.
